NEWS FROM MANCHESTER

Lawrence Still in Jail, But No Formal Charge Preferred Against Him.

INJURED WHILE AT WORK

Workman Has Arm Broken at Locomotive Works—Marriage Last Night—Personal Notes.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch. No. 1102 Hull Street. Lawrence, the circus man, who was arrested in Petersburg some time ago on two charges preferred by Bernard Elam, is still in jail here. Lawrence was acquitted on one charge, and no warrant has been issued against him for the other charge.

Robert Jackson, colored, was fined $2.50 by Mayor Maurice yesterday on the charge of chicken stealing. The negro became impatient, and was sent to jail for contempt of court.

When the case of the Manchester Heat, Light and Power Company was called yesterday morning, another continuance was asked for, as neither side had its lawyers present, both of the latter being at Chesterfield court. The case was continued until Friday.

On Friday will also come up the cases of Charles Williams and John Coplan, now in jail charged with chicken stealing, and two Hyman women, Sallie Jacob and "David" Jacob, charged with selling lace without a license.

Rudolph Fortune and Walter Deane, two negro boys, were arrested yesterday for abuse and threatening bodily harm to David Charles. Both offenders gave bail to appear in the Mayor's Court tomorrow.

The committee of arrangements for the twenty-second anniversary of Stewart Lodge, I. O. O. F., August 2d, has completed its plans for an all-day outing and Brunswick stew in Forest Hill Park.

MANY WILL EXHIBIT.

To Make Displays During Stationary Engineers' Convention.

Good progress is being made with the arrangements for the meeting here August 1st of the National Association of Stationary Engineers. The attendance is expected to be unusually large, and the sessions, which extend through several days, will be full of interest.

An interesting feature incident to the convention will be the exhibits to be made by manufacturers and supply men. These will be displayed in the regatta building, which is being used for the purpose.

The exhibits of machinery and supplies will be of special interest to the manufacturers, and all such will be extended a cordial invitation to visit the exhibit hall. The towing firms, representing nearly all of need food that will keep brain and nerves well nourished, else the brain grows dull and tires quickly.

Suppose you spend a few minutes studying the subject and a few days on an easy, pleasant trial of GRAPE-NUTS food that will furnish a clean-cut argument to drive the facts home.

A strong, sturdy, money-making set of brains can be built on Grape-Nuts and trial proves it.

There's a Reason.

FUNERAL OF CAPTAIN SHINBERGER; SOLEMN AND SIMPLE CEREMONIES.

Officer Shinberger's Body Being Borne Into Centenary Methodist Church.

Simplicity and solemnity were the striking characteristics of the funeral services over the remains of John P. Shinberger, late captain of police, whose faithful services to his city and State had been cut short by a murderous bullet. Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church, the scene of the obsequies, was thronged with the friends of the deceased officer, and the friends of the city, who were everywhere manifest. The city, by its officials, the police department, represented by almost the entire corps, and citizens, who knew and esteemed the deceased, testified their sorrow and sympathy by their presence at the church and at the residence of the deceased officer, which was at No. 15 North Beech Street, just around the corner. Composing it were a battalion of police, nearly all the city officials, the Board of Police Commissioners and a large concourse of friends. The police department consisted of fifty men, officered by the chief and captains and sergeants. Captain Whitlock, of the First District, commanded a company of thirty-one officers, and Sergeants Bailey, Kerse and

The funeral services were held at 11 A. M. The funeral cortege formed on Floyd Avenue, near the residence of the deceased officer, which was at No. 15 North Beech Street, just around the corner. Werner were the other officers. The obsequies were under the command of Captain Eppe of the Second District, with Sergeant Holdcroft second in command. There were twenty-nine men in the company. Chief of Police E. P. Hulce commanded the entire battalion. Marching in column of fours, the policemen and their officers made an impressive body.

In carriages were the active and honorary pall-bearers, the first containing Mayor R. M. Taylor, Major B. F. Howard, Commonwealth's Attorney D. C. Richardson and Police Justice John J. Crutcher. In the next carriages were Mayor-elect McCarthy, Judge Samuel B. Witt, Dr. C. W. P. Brock, Messrs. James N. Boyd, G. Watt Taylor, W. C. Wilkinson and C. H. Phillips. The members of the Board of Police Commissioners—Messrs. Landerkin, Myers, McCarthy, Manning, Welsh, Annals, Whitsett and Duke—occupied other carriages.

The other vehicles in the slow-moving procession, contained the family of the dead officer, other relatives and intimate friends.

When the cortege had formed, it moved slowly down Floyd Avenue, and thence to the church, between Fourth and Fifth Streets. As the procession followed the cortege up the aisle to the chancel, the organist played the funeral march from Beethoven's Twelfth Sonata. The services consisted merely of the simple funeral ritual, impressively read by the pastor of the church, Rev. William J. Young, Rev. W. V. Tudor, Dr. D. offered an appropriate prayer, paying tribute to the deceased and invoking divine protection for the police force and solace for the bereaved.

Sang Touching Hymns. The choir sang "Rock of Ages," and closed the services at the church with the singing of "Peace, Perfect Peace."

When the procession to Riverview Cemetery, the place of interment, was begun. At the church, during the services, the sombre receptacle of the remains was hidden beneath flowers, a profusion of these tender expressions of sympathy having been sent by the friends and associates of the deceased, and of his family. Seldom is a more beautiful floral display seen at a funeral. Among the handsome designs were those sent by the men of the two districts, another by the Board of Police Commissioners, and still another by the officers at police headquarters. Many others contributed to burial of blossoms, which hid the freshly made mound.

The burial services were simple, being merely the usual form prescribed for the burial of the dead, with appropriate music interspersed. The grief of the stricken family and the awed silence of the throng made the services of even more than usual solemnity.
